How is my pension benefit calculated?

The easiest way for you to estimate the value of your pension is to use Vestcor's online Pension Estimate Calculator. However, if you are interested in how the calculation actually works, the detail below is provided for your information.

Your annual lifetime pension, before any adjustments for early retirement or postponed retirement, is the sum of the following:

For each year (or part year) of pensionable service on and after July 1, 2012:

PLUS

For all pensionable service between January 1, 1990 and June 30, 2012:

$$\left( \begin{array}{l} \text{Pensionable service} \times 1.3\% \\ \times \\ \text{Best 5 year average earnings at June 30, 2012 up to the average YMPE at the same date} \end{array} \right) + \left( \begin{array}{l} \text{Pensionable service} \times 2\% \\ \times \\ \text{Best 5 year average earnings at June 30, 2012 in excess of the average YMPE at the same date} \end{array} \right)$$

PLUS

For all pensionable service prior to January 1, 1990:

$$\text{Pensionable service} \times 2\% \times \text{Best 5 year average earnings at June 30, 2012}$$

PLUS

For all pensionable service:

$$\text{Any Cost of Living Adjustments granted from time to time by the Board of Trustees in accordance with the Funding Policy.}$$

YMPE - Year's Maximum Pensionable Earnings used to calculate the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) contributions as per the Canada Revenue Agency.

Average YMPE - 5 year average YMPE (2012 = $47,360).

YMPE for:
2017 = $55,300;
2018 = $55,900;
2019 = $57,400.

What is the bridge benefit?

If you are eligible for early retirement, a bridge benefit is paid in addition to your lifetime pension. The monthly bridge benefit is calculated as follows:

$$\left( $27 \times \begin{array}{l} \text{the number} \\ \text{of years of} \\ \text{pensionable} \\ \text{service up to} \\ \text{July 1, 2012} \end{array} \right) + \left( $27 \times \begin{array}{l} \text{the number of years} \\ \text{the member was a} \\ \text{contributor to the CBE} \\ \text{SRP on and after July 1,} \\ \text{2012 (not pro-rated)} \end{array} \right)$$

The bridge benefit ceases to be paid when you reach age 65 or at your death, whichever is earlier. This benefit is also subject to any adjustment for early retirement and any Cost of Living Adjustments granted by the Board of Trustees.

Are my pension benefits adjusted for cost of living increases?

For active contributors to the CBE SRP, the lifetime pension and bridge benefit that you earn each year may be adjusted by a cost of living adjustment (COLA) up to the increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) if the funding status of the CBE SRP allows for it.

Once you retire, your lifetime pension and bridge benefit (if any) may be adjusted each year by a COLA up to the increase in the CPI provided the funding status of the CBE SRP allows for it. If the funding status of the CBE SRP does not allow for cost of living increases to be granted in a given year, the increases are carried forward to future years and may be paid if the funding status of the CBE SRP allows. These rules also apply to any survivor pension benefit payable.

COLA awarded to members

Are there different forms of pension that I can choose from?

There are different forms of pension available to you when you retire. Choosing the right option at retirement based on your individual circumstances is extremely important. Once you start receiving your pension, you cannot change the option you have selected.

If you are eligible to receive a pension under the CBE SRP and do not have a spouse when pension payments commence, the normal form of pension is the “Life Pension with Guaranteed Period of Five Years”. If you do have a Spouse, the automatic form of pension is the “Joint and Survivor Pension – 60%”. There are, however, optional forms of pension that you can select if your personal status allows. These optional forms of pension result in the reduction of your own pension to account for the payment of a higher survivor pension or a longer period of guarantee. The different forms of pension available to you are detailed below.

Life Pension with Guaranteed Period of 5 Years

If you die before receiving sixty (60) monthly installments, payments are continued to your designated beneficiary or to your estate (in a lump sum) as applicable, until a total of sixty (60) monthly installments have been paid. This option is only available if you have no Spouse at your date of retirement, or if your Spouse at retirement signed a spousal waiver form in accordance with the PBA.

Life Pension with Guaranteed Period of 10 Years

If you die before receiving one hundred twenty (120) monthly installments, payments are continued to your designated beneficiary or to your estate (in a lump sum) as applicable, until a total of one hundred twenty (120) monthly installments have been paid. This option is only available if you have no Spouse at your date of retirement, or if your Spouse at retirement signed a spousal waiver form in accordance with the PBA.

Joint and Survivor Pension – 60%

If you predecease your spouse (refers to the spouse at retirement), payments are continued to your spouse during your Spouse’s lifetime at a level equal to 60% of your lifetime pension. This option is only available if you have a Spouse at the date of retirement in accordance with the PBA.

Joint and Survivor Pension – 75% or 100%

If you predecease your spouse (refers to the spouse at retirement), payments are continued to your spouse during your Spouse’s lifetime at a level equal to either 75% or 100% (chosen by you at retirement) of your lifetime pension. This option is only available if you have a Spouse at the date of retirement in accordance with the PBA.
